JANJIRA

Janjira is an innovative, skin and body care brand born in Thailand that provides the ultimate well being experience. Our uniquely formulated spa inspired products balance the body, mind and spirit by nurturing the skin. Due to Thailand's ever increasing number of world class spas and interest in Thai skin care products, Janjira has been created to satisfy the need for this experience in the comfort of your own home.

Janjira delivers a unique cultural infusion based on Thai heritage and knowledge from ancient Thai healers combined with local ingredients unavailable elsewhere. Our products are inspired by nature's beauty and encompass therapeutic elements built around the bathing rituals of ancient Thai royalty. Focusing on inner beauty as well as outer beauty by fulfilling both physical and spiritual needs.

By scientifically analyzing, researching and developing Thailand's vast biodiversity, we have been able to maximize the potential of many of the natural ingredients used in our products. Janjira prides itself on being environmentally friendly which has led to the development of these products, free from parabens, paraffins and sulphates. They are not tested on animals, nor contain animal derivatives. Bringing you the wondrous signature of 'Art of Siam'.
